ABSTRACT

Web-based application for calculating the cost of goods sold and income statement that performs the process of ordering food such as Bolen, Rolls Rolls, Banana Crispy, Brownies and others. Through this order, the selling price of the product can be found. The methodology used in making this application is the waterfall method. Programming language using PHP and HTML. For display using CSS3 and Jquery. The database uses MySQL. The tools and editors used are XAMPP and Visual Studio Code. The use of this application can manage master data, record sales transactions, as well as journal reports, general ledgers, sales reports, and income statements. The second user is the acceptance of orders for managing orders from customers and determining the selling price. Owner as a user who views journal reports, general ledgers, sales reports, and income statements.

Keywords: Web-Based Applications, Sales, Profit and Loss, PHP, MySQL