

ABSTRACT

Indonesia have all kinds of animals and plants and that is a saving grace and that diversity and beauty must be preserved. One of the animal that can be found in this country is dolphin, Bottlenose Dolphin precisely. This dolphine have one distinct characteristic and that's a curve at the end of it's mouth that made them look like they were always smiling. However this characteristic has been abused by some people, by using them as a circus animals. The dolphin that has been living free in the ocean are forced to be some sort of intertainment for human enjoyment, they live in a small pool that are filled with dangerous chemicals, they have been given dead fishes that are not fres anymore. There's plenty of impact that this activity caused, therefore, we need to educate peoples to be wiser on spending their money, cause as long as there's a demand there will always be the provider. Hopefully this character design can be one of the messengers for the poeples.
