

ABSTRACT

The Department of Food Security (DISPAKAN) of Bandung districts currently wants to sell its processed food products online, therefore there must be an application that provides online sales features, from these problems and objectives, it can be concluded that DISPAKAN requires an E-Commerce application that named marketer sabilulungan, the method used to build the application is the prototype Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC) method, this application is also built based on website, so this application is built with php programming languages with MySQL database system.

Keywords: DISPAKAN, online, MySQL ,website, E-Commerce.