Archive has the main function as a memory, a center of information and historical sources that need to be managed properly so that it can facilitate all work activities and processes in an effective and efficient institution. However, there are still many who do not appreciate the archive so that the archive cannot be managed properly.

The purpose of the redesign of the National Library of Indonesia is to design. Likewise, the people who visit the National Library of Indonesia will get comfort while in the National Library of Indonesia and also education through exhibitions in the National Library of Indonesia. The methodology applied in this redesign is through field observations, and literature studies. With this redesign, it is expected that the problems in the National Library of Indonesia, both social and interior problems, can be resolved so that they can meet the needs of office staff, library staff and the community in accordance with the standards.
