

ABSTRACT

Many people like to certain event, this Event Management Application helps people who like events easier to find events including tickets for the event. Making this application is intended for people who like an event and indeed need information on the event that is being held. In the development of this application is carried out by groups who each have their own module, for the tools what I use, namely the PHP language, CodeIgniter framework, XAMPP and Visual studio code.

Keywords: Event, People