ABSTRACT

This study aims to determine factors the financial literacy of arisan participants in Kecamatan Tapos, Depok City. There are 1 variables in this study which are divided into 22 sub-variables. Of the 22 sub-variables can be analyzed into several factors that stand out. In addition, this research is also to find out the names of the factors that have been formed. This research is a type of research that uses Exploratory Factor Analysis method. The analytical tool used is SPSS 17.0. The number in this study was 72 data. The population in this study were arisan participants in Kecamatan Tapos, Depok City. This data collection method uses a questionnaire. There are 1 variables determined, namely financial literacy. The results of this study indicate that two key factors were extracted from one variables and divided into 22 predefined sub variables. The two elements are interpreted according to the variables they contain. The names of these factors are manage finance and factors of financial planning

Keywords: Financial Literacy, Arisan