

ABSTRACT

Indonesia is a country that has a lot of diversity in terms of language, race, ethnicity, religion, art and culture. The diversity that is currently developing is through the arts sector, one of which is the art of music. Music is the result of a work of art in the form of sound that is formed into one so that a song or composition is formed that expresses the thoughts and feelings of its creation through various main elements of music, such as harmony, melody, rhythm and form or structure of the song as well as forms of expression as a whole. (Jamalus 1988:1). One of the cities that has the potential for growth and development of music in general or classical music is Bandung. In Bandung, there are several classical music communities such as AYSO Bandung, AVC Bandung, Bumi Siliwangi Orchestra and have a professional music group such as the Bandung Philharmonic. With the large number of music communities in Bandung, especially classical music, the building facilities are deemed insufficient to comply with the standards of PERMENPAR Republic of Indonesia number 17 of 2015 concerning the business standards of performing arts buildings in point E regarding sound and lighting and also to break the statement / issue that classical music If it seems old and ancient, the building will be designed to represent classic European buildings.
