

ABSTRACT

Depression is a medical condition in the form of feelings of sadness that have a negative impact on a person's thoughts, actions, and mental health, and Mother is a warm and kind person for every child, whatever her nature as a child, mother is a place where children return home to share their joys and sorrows. . Schizophrenia suffered by the author's mother, which has been suffered for approximately six years, has succeeded in changing all perspectives, attitudes and circumstances around the mother, starting from children, husband and family. As a child who immediately felt the changing atmosphere in the family after the mother suffered from schizophrenia, the author wanted to share the story in a photo, and also to provide support and encouragement for children who experienced the same thing.

Keywords: Schizophrenia, depression, mother, family, sadness