

ABSTRACT

This research is motivated by the not optimal application of LDII islamic boarding school culture in its spaces. In producing the next generation with a religious professional character, pesantren culture needs to be applied in islamic boarding schools because it plays a role in regulating humans to understand how to act and do to determine attitudes. This study aims to design the interior of the Roudhotul Jannah Bandung Student Islamic Boarding School by applying the cultural values of the LDII Islamic boarding school, so that it becomes a habit that is embedded in the students. Thus, it can produce the next generation who have a religious professional character again with high intellectuality.
