

ABSTRACT

This application is backgrounded by the lack of features to see a demo of the Final Project (PA) application on the Telkom University web-based digital library or commonly referred to as the Open Library. Therefore, the purpose of making the PA Catalog application for the D3 Information Systems Study Program facilitates students of the D3 Information Systems study program in finding PA references and seeing demos of the application. Beside that, it is to help in promoting superior products made by students to the wider community. The features contained in this application include, students of the D3 Information Systems study program can download the PA book and see a demo of the PA application, students can apply for IPR on their PA through this application, and the Head of Study Program can monitor the completeness of the student's IPR submission file.
