Thesis : Telkom University Faculty of Creative Arts Study Program

Often, we realize that nature has given us life in this world from a simple thing or a big thing from that simple thing we can enjoy what nature has given us for example like mountains give us so many sources of water and then forests provide abundant oxygen to us and other sources of life. West Java is currently one of the destinations for tourism by tourists, because it has various types of tourist attractions, especially with very attractive natural beauty, this triggers people to look for attractive natural attractions according to their needs. This work is a form to show the existence of the natural beauty that is in West Java to local and international communities so that they can get to know the beauty that exists in West Java and be more aware of how important it is for us to take care of the nature that is around us. this work is cinematography in which there is a combination of photography and videography with several techniques used such as hyperlapse and cinematic. The author also hopes that we can take better care of the nature that has been given to us so that we can continue to enjoy it longer.
