

ABSTRACT

Women have many ways to express their identity. expressing emotions and thoughts in many ways that can be done by each individual, one of which is expressing feelings of sadness and emotion through facial expressions shown. Along with the current development, self-expression can be implemented in various media, one of which is expressing it in expression photography. Based on the author's experience on how to express emotions and become visually real through photographic work, it can be a self-identity in the work. what the author conveys in this final project is to represent the behavior of a woman who wants to vent her feelings because she harbors emotions and knows it herself, because she does not get support from the surrounding environment. Therefore, the author made a work entitled "Representation of Women's Emotions and Sadness in Expression Photography". The results of this work can convey messages and stories through this expression photography from the author based on experiences from everyday life. The medium used in creating works is expression photography. The choice of genre and function is very appropriate in expression photography because expression photography is an expression of a photographer's feelings and ideas. The purpose of making this final project is to visualize and vent the hidden feelings of women's emotions and thoughts through the media of expression photography.

Keywords : Emotion, sad, women, Expression Photography.