

ABSTRACT

In this social life, social phenomena are things that are often encountered in everyday life. The emergence of this social phenomenon is due to social changes among people that can be detrimental to life because it is not in accordance with the values that exist in society. However, there are several social phenomena that have a positive impact on society. Therefore, social phenomena that occur around are important things to be known by the public.

To find out the social phenomena that are happening in a village area, it can be overcome by proposing a system that aims to help social conditions (social mapping). Social mapping can be interpreted as social profiling or profiling a community. The identification of institutions and individuals is carried out academically through field research, namely collecting data directly, interpreting it and determining the relationship between one social unit in the community area under study.
