ABSTRACT

The Consumer module Marketplace Catering Web Application is an application used by consumers who have difficulties in finding catering services to make catering orders in the KETRINGAN startup marketplace which has several features such as displaying various food menus, ordering, and payment. From KETRINGAN's startup products and services, they have received several positive responses from consumers, most of whom are students, helped because they no longer need to bother looking for catering that suits the needs of consumers.

Keywords: Catering Services, Startup, Marketplace, Customers, College Student, Food, Orders.