List of Terms

IT	:	Information Technology. This refers to the utilization of computers, networking systems, software, and other tech equipment to create, manage, store, secure, and share all forms of electronic data.
Agile	:	Refers to a flexible, adaptive, and collaborative approach to managing and implementing IT solutions. Agile is based on the principles of responsiveness to change, intense collaboration between teams and stakeholders, and delivery of solutions in iterations or short cycles that deliver faster value to businesses or users.
ITGM	:	This refers to the utilization of computers, networking systems, software, and other tech equipment to create, manage, store, secure, and share all forms of electronic data.
Fintech	:	Financial Technology: Also known as Fintech, this term is used for emerging technologies aimed at enhancing and automating the delivery and usage of financial services.
BUMN	:	Badan Usaha Milik Negara. This signifies a company that is entirely or partially owned by the government, established with the objective of providing public services or bolstering a country's economic and social development.
OJK	:	Otoritas Jasa Keuangan. This is a government agency in Indonesia assigned the responsibility of supervising and regulating the financial services industry. OJK's role is to ensure transparent and fair operations of financial institutions.
COBIT 2019 / COBIT 2019 DevOps Focus Area	:	This is a framework designed to assist organizations in managing and controlling their business development and operations.
Seven Component	:	This is a component of the COBIT 2019 framework, which comprises the seven necessary elements for building organizational capabilities in managing information technology.