

REDESIGNING THE OFFICE OF PT. PELAYARAN TONASA LINES IN SOUTH SULAWESI WITH SPACE PSYCHOLOGY APPROACH

ABSTRACT

An office is a place where people work together to achieve organizational goals. The function of the office itself is also as an organizational storage place, office archives are important for documentation and as a reference material in decision making. This research discusses the design of PT. Pelayaran Tonasa Lines office with space psychology approach. The office of PT. Pelayaran Tonasa Lines is a private company engaged in the distribution / shipping expedition located on Jl. Kapten Pahlawan Laut No. 5 Poros Pelabuhan Biringkassi Bulucindea Bungoro District Pangkajene Regency, South Sulawesi. This research uses qualitative methods with data obtained through interviews with employees of the PT. Pelayaran Tonasa Lines office. The office of PT. Pelayaran Tonasa Lines is generation X and generation Y, so a work atmosphere is needed that can build the character of generation X and Y. This research can be used for consideration in redesigning the office of PT.Pelayaran Tonasa Lines.
