

ABSTRACT

This project aims to develop a web dashboard aimed at employees of the secretariat general of higher education, research and technology. The dashboard will include several features, such as employee biodata, attendance recap, leave claims, daily log, as well as special features for admins such as employee data information, position list, position map, employee salary, employee service data recap, attendance recap, schedule leave, and organizational map. This project implements the waterfall method in its development and will use frontend technology such as the NextJS framework, Tailwind CSS, as well as fetch data and API, the aim of this project is to provide effective and efficient solutions for employees of the secretariat general of higher education, research and technology as well as providing practical experience in developing web applications for interns.

Keywords: Web, NextJS, Intradikti, Tailwind, API