

Abstract : The library is a forum for the public to access information and educational media. However, currently the condition of literacy and interest in reading, especially in the city of Medan, is very worrying. One of the reasons for this is that the facilities and infrastructure in libraries in Medan City are still inadequate. Through a spatial psychology approach to the reading experience of users, it is hoped that it will be able to create a more comfortable library atmosphere so that users can have a better experience when visiting.

Keywords: Psychology Space, library, comfort