

ABSTRACT

Recently, many cases of sexual harassment have been circulating on the internet, one of which is verbal sexual harassment in the form of catcalling. This type of sexual harassment is often encountered by women as victims so the impact refers to psychological and emotional well-being because it has a negative impact. Victims often feel threatened, unsafe, and unappreciated. This can trigger stress, anxiety and mental health problems. Therefore, a suitable medium for visualizing sexual harassment is experimental film. Experimental films leave writers free to vary some visual effects. As in the case of tone, effects, sounds which contain symbolic elements which have visual meaning which shows the tension, confusion, and psychological side felt by victims of verbal sexual harassment such as catcalling.
