ABSTRACT

Vendor user type is a mobile application designed for third party or service providers. Developed by Seven Inc company, Titipsini is designed to meet the need of storing goods, buildings, and vehicles. The service initially only available in Yogyakarta, will be expanded to the entire Indonesia. Additionally, this app also offers opportunities for individuals and businesses to join as vendors, providing additional services and expanding Titipsini's operational network. Through the digitalization of operational processes and services expansion, Titipsini is expected to improve efficiency, service quality, and customer satisfaction throughout Indonesia.
