

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis is compiled with the effort, help, and support from all supporting elements. The author would like to express the deepest gratitude and thanks to:

1. First and foremost, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to Lord Jesus Christ for His unfailing love, grace, and blessings that have sustained me from the beginning of this journey until its completion.
2. My heartfelt thanks go to my dearest family—Papa Wellem, Mama Dince, Enje, Kakak, and Kak Febe—for being my strongest support system. Your prayers, encouragement, and unwavering belief in me have helped me complete this thesis.
3. I am deeply thankful to Mr. Suryo Adhi Wibowo and his family, who has guided me since my undergraduate years through to my master's journey. Thank you for your full support, mentorship, and for giving me the opportunity to grow through various experiences during my graduate studies.
4. I would also like to thank Mr. Unang Sunarya for kindly serving as my second supervisor and for his valuable guidance throughout this thesis.
5. I would like to thank Mr.Charley Deen Jason Rambli and family for the support during my master degree
6. My sincere thanks to the IMV 2019 cohort and the AILO teams of Generation 0, 1, and 2. Thank you for walking alongside me in both joyful and challenging times throughout my academic journey at Telkom University from undergraduate to graduate level.
7. Special thanks to my fellow master's degree companions, Ijah and Kanz, for being with me throughout this journey. Your presence, help, and encouragement have truly lightened the load and brought strength when it was most needed.
8. I am especially grateful to my amazing colleagues at DCS Telkom University—Mrs. Runik, Mr. Harfan, Mas Dicky, Mrs. Sonia, Salsa, Mas Melby, Chece, Hana, Raffi, and Rifki, the intern gang (Gilang, Ezra, Chika, Haifa, Nadia, Ambar, Garesha). Working with you has been an extraordinary experience and has given me memories and learning that I will always cherish.

9. A warm thank you to the Receptionist Gang Ira, Uni, A Pian and the kind security guards and cleaning staff on the first floor of the Rectorate building, who made my daily routines more bearable and joyful during my time there.
10. I also extend my sincere appreciation to the Rambli and Lorie families for their continuous support, encouragement, and presence throughout the process of finishing my thesis.
11. Lastly, I would like to express my gratitude to the church families at GPdI Alpha Omega Bandung, GPdI Bethlehem Kelapa Gading, and GPdI House of Prayer Jombang, for accompanying me in faith and prayer, and for being a place of growth and fellowship in Christ.