ABSTRACT

Hobbies in the field of photography hobby a difficult first Sounded. Maybe not in this present era in which the camera has a lot of facilities provided. And in this final created a system that can help people to learn photography. The camera of course the main requirement for learning photography. Digital cameras that are used are also diverse kinds, ranging from the camera phone, pocket, until SLR.

This final assessment is made to analyze the images of people who lay on photography. To be the first person holding the camera can easily take pictures with the human object. In addition to those just learning to not just take pictures of course so that people can enjoy the picture itself. In this final program analyzes the images with basic photography. Basic photography used is about the composition, angle, zoom, and brightness.

With this final application program can help the layman to learn the fundamentals of   photography   with   ease.

Keywords: basic photography, people, camera