ABSTRACT

A technology coming to solving many problems. One of many technology in telecommunication cellular is SMS (Short Message Service). With SMS technology can possibly make many application that SMS based like quiz, polling, forum, and application for ordering goods.

In this final project was made prototype for make be easy a patient who want to check up in hospital. This prototype was build from a SMS server gateway that service a patient registration using SMS.

This prototype consist of three application, Registration for patient , doctor schedule information application, and application for sent a critic. This prototype was made from Visual Basic 6 language and MySQL for database.

With this application patient can make a registration withouth coming to hospital. Just sent sms a patient otomaticaly registered from everywhere and anywhere.