ABSTRACT

Cinema represent one of hospot which in this time progressively be enthused by Indonesia society. Special Impression and satisfaction moment by watching film in cinema make the number of society choose to watch theirs favorite film in the cinema.

This final project was built a "SMS Application of Cinema Film Showing Information and Ticket Ordering Service" to give new alternative in advising film showing information service and ticket ordering service in cinema which until now was done through by mass media to advising of film information and by visiting upon directly to cinema to get ticket.

This application could serves of ordered ticket using SMS from a member. This application also could serves advising film showing information using SMS, such as ticket price, film title, and show time.

This application was built using structural analysis and design. This application used Ms Access for database. Tool which used to help the application building process is Microsoft Visio 2003 for system model and programming language used Delphi 7.0.

Keyword : SMS (Short Message Service), film information, ordering