ABSTRACT

Data processing and granting information easily is aone of important thing for an social institution. Needed of periodic reporting about the events in the institution, forcing the institution to be able to processing the data correctly so we can get the requires information easily.

This final project has been built the support application of donor data in rumah zakat. This application give service for admin to update data member, input new data member,searching and delete data member, send reply sms and info sms, and for the operator to update data member, send reply sms and info sms,searching and delete data member and make periodic report.

The method which is used in development of this software is structured analysis, while software for implementation and language of the program is Borland Delphi and database use Paradox. To make easier in granting information to the donor used SMS services which used the sellular phone as the media.

Keyword : Borland Delphi, paradox, SMS.