For my beloved family, musician all around the world and my friends that teach me what true love is….

ABSTRACT

Music is universal human needs, when people listen to the music, they usually want to play them. The problem is how and where to get the content for studying kinds of music instruments. Guitar is an universal instruments, it can be played everywhere. This final project gives an information about gitar and how to play it.

The method used in this final project development is through the multimedia project production approach. This final project contains elements of multimedia in order to earn to draw attention and to add motivation of learning for users.

This final project is made by using Macromedia Flash auhoring tool with action script as an authoring language and other software like photoshop, soundforge, fireworks and fruity loops.. The contents are saved as XML files using DTD data bonding method.

Keywords :

authoring tool, auhoring language, XML, DTD