

ABSTRACT

Nowadays mobile phone technology is growing rapidly and a lot of users use it. The mobile phone users using a cell phone for different ways, such as communicating with other users, listen to music, access the internet and playing games. The users play games in their spare time. Many also are spend their time just to play games.

Games may have become a necessity to expel stress for people today. Game that made in this final project is a pacman game, pacman game first created by Namco in 1980. How to play this game by eating dots in a labyrinth guarded by ghosts. This game makes people addicted to play because the gameplay is simple and colorful character.

Making this game use J2ME technology and Bluetooth technology. J2ME technology used to create various applications for mobile phones, and bluetooth technology used to connect between the two cellular phones.

Keyword : Mobile Phone, Pacman, J2ME, Bluetooth