

Abstract

Lodaya is one of the ways in the district Lengkong, Bandung wellknown as a rental for party equipments place. Della Company is one of the rental for party equipments companies in Lodaya managed by Ary Ismail Kadar S.E. and established on 1992. This company has a number of party supplies inventory of approximately 40 kinds of goods and the amount of stock a range of goods is about 1000 pieces. At the rental company serves a diverse, ranging from where to eat, stage, seats up to decorating the place.

Every customer who wants to use the services of leasing companies Della will be served by employees of the administration of rental transaction by providing a hand-written note. Then, a copy of the memorandum will be collected and accumulated to calculate the rental of every day, which will then return to calculate accumulated sales revenue each month.

Based on the explanation above, the writer has built a transaction management application, which does not only handle lease, but also handles the borrowing of goods to another rental company or the purchase of goods. Data will be stored into the database making it easier for employees who will see it. In addition, this application can also assist owners in viewing a report all transaction..

This application is made by using java programming language, NetBeans IDE 6.7.1, which adapting all package inside and added with some libraries to making files and to call the database. Moreover, this application uses iReport-3.0.0 for making bill and travel permit.

Keywords: Della company, leasing transaction management application,