ABSTRACT

Everyday in our life is very important to get information which is accretion and update information's. By using SMS gateway in cellular and website network, information will send to objected in a short time.

The final project purposed to create publications that can display accurate information, realtime, and up to date. It will be required with PHP Program Language with additional from Macromedia Dreamweaver CS3, Ms.Visio Professional 2007 for system modeling, where as for database using MYSQL.

The application have functional user in managing information about seminars, guardianship, announcements from   the   admin, faculty, Lecturer, laboratory assistants, and organizations in the Faculty of Informatics. The results of processing the data above can be viewed on the website and monitor. As for the media in the input process information is the website and SMS.

Keyword: MYSQL, Website, SMS , SMS Gateway, Monitor.