Abstract

A good of design of room, good arrangement , and beautiful aesthetics have been proved affecting our mood and productivity in activity, productivity accretion is also affected by efficient room layout such as feature to reach items quickly. Therefore this game or application that associated with room layout would be benefit to users.

This final project titled IT Telkom Sims Online is a web based online games.the game is room layout design, all the room is from various building in IT Telkom There is no rule in this game , just play with your creativity to manage and create your design self .   The gameplay is to change and recreate about furniture position.

This application Application of this game is made with a expectation of simulation the of room layout in IT Telkom with an interactive user interface and fun like a real game.