

Abstract

Election are the process of selecting people to fill a certain position that have a diverse jobs, like the president, civil delegations at various levels of government until to the village leader. In an every organization election is needed to fill a position. Organization that means are the student extracurricular of Aceh culture in IT Telkom.

During the leader election business process of Student extracurricular from Aceh Culture and Informations Unit in IT Telkom still use manual method from the presentation of vision and mission of the new candidates to be leader, when selection process, until the time to announcement of election results. There are many problems, such as excessive use of paper, the selection process until the result of the elections takes a lot of time, so it is a wasting time. Making this application aims to facilitate a user (member of UIKA) to vote a new leader in election process also user management see the incoming votes progress and the results of the new leader UIKA election.

Keywords: SMEs, UIKA, IT Telkom