Abstract

To ensure the smooth handling of the project assessment management process in PT. Wijaya Perdana construction company in order to become a company that exists in its activities, it takes an application that can handle and manage the project assessment process that occurs within the company.

Final project, entitled "Assessment Management System Application for PT. Wijaya Perdana Construction Company Using the Android Platform" is have a capability in terms of project assessment management in the company branched out in the city of Surabaya, and displays the results of such assessment. This application is implemented on the Android platform, wich will be very good for use everywhere.

"Assessment Management System Application for PT. Wijaya Perdana Construction Company Using the Android Platform" was made, in the hope of completing all sorts of problems that occur in the company's assessment.

Keywords : assessment, android, management, application